

Time Saver for Pattern Selection in Creative Studio™

Here's an idea for saving some time selecting patterns in Creative Studio™. If you have a group of patterns that you use together often, you can save a project containing them. This will reduce the time it takes to add these patterns to your project each time you use them. This works well with pattern sets that are coordinated by the designer, as well as other groups of patterns that you use together often. First, open a new project in CS. Add the patterns you want, say the Simple Feather set patterns. Save the project as Simple Feather Set. When you get a quilt that you want to use these patterns on, simply open the project named Simple Feather Set. Then save as the customer or quilt name. You will make any changes you want in the new project and still have the original to use the next time you need the pattern set.
